THE ELECTION IS OVER. After four years' work and twenty four years' rest he Democratic party goes back to rest. Mr. Cleveland feets bad. So does Mrs. Cleveland. Mr. Harrison feels good. So does Mrs. Harrison. Families are not divided in sentiment by the result. The Cleveland administration will go out. The Harrison administration will come in. It may be worse, it may be better. We who are not personally interested, having decided who shall handle the reins of Government for four years, may now return to business and let politics alone until we are needed again.

The politicians are eminently equal to attending to the trust reposed in them, and the people may go ahead making money to meet the expenses of the Government. We can't afford to stop long on the small griundennial affair like a national election, and now that we have settled it, let us proceed at once to work and stop talking. Everything will go right along just the same as ever, and with our eyes shut we can't tell the difference. The country is safe every day in the year as long as the people attend to their own affairs, and keep an eye on the politicians. Let them do the talking and the statesmanship. We are a great nation in the aggregate, because we are great as individuals. We weep with Cleveland; we rejoice with Harrison, and thus the law of compensation is preserved inviolate. Four year hence we will express an opinion as to how we like the new order of things.

IN THE CLOSE STATES What is Said Said of the Result by the Indiana Democrats. The Indiana Democratic chairman, Mr. Jewett, threw up the sponge at 11 o'clock last night, after getting in all the re-turns that could be expected. He said Indiana is Republican by about 2,000 plurality on the electoral ticket and the State ticket runs close to it. There is State ticket runs close to it. There is practically no difference.

"The Democrats elect the auditor and two supreme judges, gain four Congressmen and get the Legislature. State pride has nothing to do with it. It was floater pride. They went to the market and bought; we did not, and that's all there is in it."

there is in it."

In a conversation with Mr. John C. New, owner of the Journal, he said, "There is no doubt that Gen. Harrison has carried Indiana." When asked what he thought was the moving impulse for such a turnover he said: The tariff, the personal popularity and the high character of Gen. Harrison; the knowledge that public affairs may be safely entrusted to his clean hands and the dissatisfaction the people of Indiana have satisfaction the people of Indiana have with the Democrats, particularly with regard to benevolent institutions. It should be explained that great outery has been made out of the inferior character of some of the supplies fur-nished to the insune asylum. It is to this Mr. New referred in mentioning the benevolent institutions in this connec-tion. Mr. New seemed to feel sore over the loss of Marion County and attributed the loss of Marion County and attributed in to the intimidating influence of the hundreds of United States deputy marshals who, he said, had been appointed for the purpose of annoying Republican voters and keeping them from free access to the ballot-box. It is understood a good deal of had blood is the consequence of the use of deputy marshals, and no end of litigation is in prospect unless the Republicans choose to forget it in the victory which seems to have crowned their effects.

West Virginia Democratic.

West Virginia Democratic. West Virginia has certainly been carried by Cleveland, but by a majority somewhat reduced from 1884. The tendency of strong Republican counties, except Kanawha, has been to increase their majorities, while the average of the Democratic counties show that they either about hold their own, or show a very moderate increase.

In the Second Congressional district

A Democratic Majority in Virgini Returns from sixty-two counties and all the cities-about two-thirds of Virginia-indicate a Democratic gain over 1884 of 744. At this ratio of gain the State will give over 6,000 majority for Cleveland. Many of these returns, however, are not official. The figures at hand show the Democrats have elected eight out of the ten Congressmen in the State. These are George D. Wise, in the Third district, by 305 majority; E. C. Venable, in the Fourth, by 903 plurality; Lester Posey, in the Fifth, by 2,000 majority; Paul Edmunds, in the Sixth, by 3,000 majority; C. T. O'Ferrall, in the Seventi, claimed by 3,000 majority; W. H. F. Lee, in the Eighth, by a reduced majority; James A. Buchanan, in the Ninth, by 500 majority. H. St. George Tucker claims his election in the Tenth by 800 majority. In the First district the contest between Gilmor S. Kendall, Dem., and T. Bailey Brown, Rep., is very close. George E. Bowden, Rep., in the Second district, is elected by 5,000 1884 of 744. Daniel L. Gibbens, a Democratic col-league of Commissioner Hess, dropped a considerable amount of Democratic money.

Harry W. Walker lost a thousand or two, most of it being, it is supposed, Henry Watterson's money.

Stephen B. French won a nice pot, or rather a number of pots. He is probably $15,000 or $20,000 ahead, and would have been more if John D. several others win comfortable sums up in the thousands.

Congressman W. L. Scott, of Pennsylvania, is a heavy loser, the only one among the Democratic campaign managers. He placed his money through Clerk Parker of the Albemarle Hotel, and it is supposed that Quay will win some of it. Bradley B. Smalley, of Vermont, is proportionately as big a loser as Mr. Scott, his means being considered in comparison with those of the millionaire Pennsylvanian.

Ex-Congressman Jack Adams is a considerable winner, and said at the Hoffman House last night that he had spent some of his gains in two telegrams, one to Gov. Hill:

their bets as soon as they ran against the figures from Kings County. George Bauman, a bookmaker, is a heavy loser who continued to throw it in on Wednesday morning. He lost one $10,000 bet to a Maine pool of which Joe Manley is said to be a partner. Col. William L. Brown, of the Daily News, is a heavy loser, nearly up to $40,000. Senator Jones, of Nevada, is a good winner, having placed his money through Col. Thomas P. Ochiltree, Col. John A. Cockerill is a winner. William H. Johnston, the Philadelphia subway man, comes out thousands ahead.
